Notes: There are some differences in the strengths provided by the two source documents used in this order of battle. Pelet was the principal source and his figures remain on all infantry of Massena's army, but Koch's work was used if details existed on a lower level. Koch was the source of the cavalry's regimental strength figures and the material for Valladolid, Salamanca, and Asturias. The sources are, in the situation where a mixture exists, indicated by the use of the asterix (*).
